Four MBAP recon missions were flown yesterday, none over the missile sites. All recon missions were flown over the airfields, to check on IL-28s. Work is continuing on these aircraft. Two IL-28s are flyable. Six IL-28s are being worked on. There are 19 crates lying around the fields. It is not possible to tell whether they are empty or full. Various recon missions have noticed 30 odd crates at different times. More detailed information on these latest air photo's will be coming over later. Moose expects this will be a slow day, does not know whether further recon flights will be authorized today.
